Fun Fact

As a child, I loved turning everyday moments into little adventures, using blankets as superhero capes, talking to her toys as if they were real friends, and believing that every day held a bit of magic waiting to be discovered.

My Hobbies

My Goal

My goal is to be a graphic designer and to improve in creating visually compelling designs that communicate ideas clearly, inspire people, and leave a lasting impression while continuously improving my skills and exploring new creative possibilities.
